ACCESS POINTS

Wine bottles

OBJECT DESCRIPTION

Large wine storage bottle. The bottle itself is glass, surrounding the bottle is sisal cord that runs around the bottle top to bottom. Then the bottle is incased in a metal holder. There is a metal plaque attached to the metal holder. No specific writing is legible, however there are faint red marks that indicated something may have been printed on it at some point. This item is comparable to 1994.13.21, which does have red printing on it. There is a cork stuck inside the bottle.

ORIGIN

Donated by Georgia Kotsiopoulos. The wine storage bottle was originally from Tripolis, Greece and is circa 1930-1950.
